The Golden Flag Award was given to Excelitas Technologies for achieving a 96 percent score during the Occupational Safety and Health Management System audit. Terence Yeo, Excelitas Technologies' Site Leader for Batam and Singapore, received the honor from Dr. H.A. Muhaimin Iskandar, Manpower Minister of the Republic of Indonesia. Excelitas Technologies is one of only eight such companies in Batam to receive this award.

"We are thrilled that the Batam facility is the recipient of the Golden Flag Award for the fourth consecutive year," said David Nislick, Chief Executive Officer, Excelitas Technologies. "Excelitas adopts a proactive approach to implementing effective EH&S management systems across our global manufacturing footprint, and this award recognizes the company's strong commitment to employee wellness and safety, as well as our continued focus on environmental protection policies," said Mr. Nislick.

Excelitas Technologies' Batam facility employs 950 people and manufactures a host of state-of-the-art detection and lighting products and technologies. Throughout its history, the Batam facility has received numerous awards for excellence, including "BEST COMPANY" in the Industrial Park Innovation and Quality Convention, an Environmental Award from the Batam Province Government, and the Bipartite Gold Award from the Ministry of Manpower Indonesia for promoting excellent industrial relations.
